

Where Land & Community Meet

☞ Call for Submissions ☞

WLA was founded by western landowners to advance policies and practices that sustain working lands, connected landscapes and native species. We envision a future in which private and leased public lands and waters in the West are healthy and resilient to environmental and developmental stressors. We believe healthy lands and water resources are the foundation for prosperous rural economies. We recognize that private lands encompass the most productive and biologically diverse landscapes in the West, and that landowners have a pivotal role to play in shaping the future.

Your voice is at the heart of our work. Help us tell your story.

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

- We are soliciting short videos created by landowners and managers, accompanied by narratives and photos. Details below. Deadline for submissions: March 7, 2018
- Up to 15 submitted videos will be selected by WLA and edited by a professional videographer to create a final, 30-60-second video that may incorporate text, quotes and/or photography submitted with raw video footage. Final, edited video will be used to promote WLA's work by telling the stories of landowners and managers throughout the American West. Selected, edited videos will be published on social media and used widely as part of WLA's communications, education and outreach initiatives.
- If we select your submitted materials for editing and use by WLA, we will send you a one-time payment of $150 for ownership rights to, and full use of, all submitted materials by WLA.
- Announcements regarding selected videos will be made within one month of the submission deadline, by April 4, 2018. Payments for selected videos will be sent by April 20, 2018.
- Signed, dated Media Licensing Agreement form (below) must be received by WLA before WLA can send payment for (or edit and utilize) a selected video and accompanying materials.
